

How do I share the Gospel with frat stars as a campus minister?
Technically I am an outsider trying to become an insider

If your campus minister and are starting to do ministry in a fraternity or sorority Wood make it your goal to be friends with the actives but to share Christ with the pledges. And as you earn respect in the fraternity or sorority you're ministering in then you can begin to share Christ with the actives. If you share the gospel with an active and they are offended they can make it where you're no longer accepted are allowed to come over to the house. But pledges don't have much pool so I'll we share Christ with them first. Know if you were in college you are an insider and everybody and you have the ability to do great and mighty things for the Lord and your fraternities and sororities. So how did I share the gospel with guys when I would meet with them one-on-one? Or sometimes I would have a younger active go with me when we would share with the pledge. I chose early on to use the four spiritual laws that was written by Dr. Bill bride who founded campus crew The organization that I work for. But if I didn't have before laws with me I would pull out my Bible and simply walk through the four points and then look up the individual versus. There's also other great ways for you to share your faith. Student mobilization uses a method called bridge diagram. And I think it's really good and I've used before is well. Either way you need to help people understand that they have a need for a savior and I must say no to them sales and yes to Christ. I spoke before the Sigma Chi pledges this past fall and after several talks it was the end of the semester and I led several large group Bible studies with the pledges and one day I told him I don't care if they walk Liao feel that comment card or raise their hand at a church meeting if they are not readily confessing your sins to the Lord and living a broken life before him that I would doubt they truly receive the gospel receive Christ your trust someone says they prayed with me to trust in Christ I say yes they've indicated to decision to trust in Christ but it's not until I see them starting to live the Christian life that I know that maybe the Gospels taken root in their lives and they were new person in Christ. I must say that introducing somebody to Christ is one of the most exciting things we can do in the Christian life. The reason I love it is because I know I'm just a small cog in the wheel of helping that person coming to Christ. Remember some of your pledge brothers and sisters me of God working in your life for several years and all they need is for somebody to open their mouth and talk to them about Christ and they will be ready to trust in him. I've seen it happen many many times over my 26 years of working with college students. You will never look back and say I shared my feet too much you will probably always look back and say I wish I wouldn't share Christ with one more person. As I was halfway through writing this article I got a text from a staff on our campus informing me that a sorority girl Little Miss was tragically killed last night by a drunk driver. At least I have the piece that I shared Christ with her pledge class and that maybe she listened. Once again another reason why we need to be sharing our faith now so if your pledge brothers and sisters may live to be in their 80s and 90s and might even hear the gospel several times but some of them for some of them the only gospel him I don't ever hears if you share with them.

A few years ago I received a phone call from a lady who said that back in 1967 she was a Chi Omega pledge at Ole Miss. She said that a cru staff spoke to here pledge class and shared the Gospel with them and she gave her life to the lord that day. She went on to say that recently her dad passed away and she wanted to make take some of the money she inherited and make a donation to cru so she gave our ministry $10,000. It's amazing to me to see how when you take small steps of faith God can use it changed to change peoples lives for eternity
